RE: Prospectus, Funday & Fundraising

Dear Parents

Thank you to all the parents, families and well-wishers who attended the Summer Funday yesterday at the school. The weather was wonderful, the atmosphere was warm and friendly and the children and adults who attended all had a fantastic time based upon the feedback I've received so far. However, I'd like to add that these events have a deeper significance than everyone enjoying the sunshine and barbecue; they provide our community with a focal point and energy that only a school can foster. And, they provide for our young people a sense of unity and family and thus I thank you for your participation and your continued support.

I'm also delighted that we were able to use the Funday to launch our new school prospectus which I attach with this letter – your son/daughter will be receiving a copy of the school prospectus today. I share this with you for the twofold purpose of keeping you informed about the school and one copy for you to share with your friends and family in order to support the school and its endeavours in providing the best education for our children.

Also attached with the prospectus today are flyers regarding the schools recent fundraising campaign for good causes around the world and also for the school; these are self-explanatory but suffice to say we continue to strive to raise funds for the school in order to help establish Ayesha Community School as a pillar of Islamic education within our community.

Online links to the fundraising pages are under the Community Menu on our website:
